Greece has implemented the eIDAS node, stemming from an EU regulation on electronic identification and trust services for electronic transactions in the internal market.

The governmental cloud (G-Cloud), hosted in the Data Centre of the Information Society S.A, is running. Major public sector applications have been migrated to the G-Cloud.

The National Citizens Registry has become functional, reducing the number of signatures and document to be produced by the citizens.

NIFO is a project service provided by the European Commission’s ISA² programme. It delivers solutions for European public administrations, citizens and businesses. It assists EU countries in monitoring the take up of eGovernment and interoperability.

Check out the NIFO collection on Joinup for more details.