No new political communication in the field of digital public administration has been reported to date.

No new legislation in the field of digital public administration has been reported to date.

Between 2020 and 2021, the Government of the Principality of Liechtenstein established a new National Cyber Security Unit. The National Cyber Security Unit is the central office for all matters related to cyber risks. It serves as a hub and intermediary for the general public, companies, operators of critical infrastructure and authorities.

In February 2021, the public administration’s internet presence was put on a new footing with the launch of serviceportal.li. As a first step, serviceportal.li will be available for private individuals only. Then, between 2021 and 2022, the portal solution will be expanded with an area for companies as well as personalised services.

* Liechtenstein is not required to supply complete data to Eurostat due to its small size and population. As a result, there are no values for the usual indicators contained in this infographic; instead, similar indicators are quoted from the UN E-Government Survey 2020.
