In July 2022, the DTD published the Design Guidelines and Manual. The guidelines describe all the features to be included when creating websites and digital services for the public sector, the optional requirements as well as those requiring careful evaluation. The Strategic Programme on Artificial Intelligence 2022-2024 aims to substantially upgrade the Italian strategy on AI, leveraging on key strengths of the national ecosystem while addressing the main areas for improvement.	The Governance and Simplification Decree (Decree No. 13/2023) introduces a new provision in the Code of Civil Procedure (Article 35, session 3, modifying Article 196 quarter). With effect from 1 March 2023, the electronic filing (eFiling) became mandatory for prosecutors and judges. Rulings and summary reports of registrars shall be filed via the telematic service portal.	Digital PA 2026 is a web platform that allows Italian public administrations to apply for tenders and to manage all the projects financed by the National Recovery and Resilience Plan. The platform enables the Department for Digital Transformation (DTD) to monitor applications to tenders and to perform technical and formal controls on projects, even automatically. With the objective of supporting national and local public administrations to design and develop their webpages, the DTD released an evaluation app. The app is an automated tool to help verify adherence to the design models for municipalities and schools.	The Undersecretary for Technological Innovation, within the Prime Minister's Office, oversees the coordination of eGovernment tasks at all levels of the Italian administration. It ensures consistency among digital innovation policies, while coordinating projects involving several administrations.
